Words of Wisdom

‘Every life has a filter. It’s like the filter in the dryer. It’s right on the front. There’s a note right there that says to clean before each use. Your life has that same kind of filter. It is there to pull your negative experiences away from you. Hold them so you can look at them and learn from them, and never repeat them. Sometimes we don’t clean that filter, and when that happens it becomes the window through which you see the world.’

— Bertice Berry, PhD, sociologist, keynote speaker at the American Association of Critical-Care Nurses National Teaching Institute, May 21
